

Selforganization in a Critical State and Stylized Facts in Agent Based Models

Luciano Pietronero

Department of Physics, University La Sapienza, Rome and Institute of Complex Systems, CNR, Rome

Abstract

We introduce a class of agent based models with fundamentalists and chartists (stabilizing and destabilizing). The chartists are described by the effective potential method. The properties of the model are analyzed in order to evidenciate the specific origin of the various scenarios depending on the parameter range. It is argued that the stylized facts correspond to finite size effects arising from the self-organization of a special type of critical behavior.